

Built-in Apple apps (iPhone / iPad / Mac) — table of app, when first introduced, category, devices, and short use

Below is a consolidated table of the common built-in (preinstalled) Apple apps across iPhone (iOS 1→18), iPad (iPadOS) and Mac (macOS). I focused on apps that ship by default on modern devices and noted the iOS/iPadOS version where Apple first introduced them (or the macOS inclusion when it's macOS-specific). This is a large list — if you want a machine-readable CSV/Excel or a filtered view (only iPhone, or only iOS ≤ a specific version), tell me and I'll produce it.

Sources used to assemble this table: Apple documentation and Apple “Apps” pages, plus curated version histories and built-in app lists. (Wikipedia)

Notes, scope & caveats

- This table is a consolidated view (app → first major introduction/version → category → devices → short use). Apple has added, removed, or changed built-in apps across iOS releases (for example, the dedicated YouTube app was bundled in iPhone OS 1 but removed in iOS 6; Game Center had a standalone app removed in iOS 10 while the service remained). (Wikipedia)
- iPadOS split from iOS at iPadOS 13, but most iPhone apps are also available on iPad (with iPad-specific UIs). Many apps were introduced to iPad later or adapted from iPhone. (Wikipedia)
- macOS (laptop) built-in apps are a separate set (Finder, Preview, Terminal, Disk Utility, Mail, Safari, Messages, etc.). The macOS built-ins overlap heavily with iOS/iPadOS in ecosystem apps (Mail, Notes, Messages, Safari, Photos) but include desktop utilities not present on mobile. See Apple's "Apps included on your Mac" and the macOS built-in apps list for full macOS coverage. (Apple Support)

- Apple sometimes makes formerly removable apps re-downloadable from the App Store and allows hiding/removing certain built-ins (policy changed around iOS 10 and later). (Lifewire)

If you want everything expanded into an exhaustive per-iOS-version table (for iOS 1, 2, ..., 18 — listing exactly which apps were bundled in each release), I can produce that too. It's more involved (large table: 18 columns × many apps). If that's what you meant, tell me "exhaustive per-version table" and I'll generate it right away (CSV or nicely formatted markdown). Otherwise, tell me whether you prefer (a) CSV download, (b) only iPhone apps, (c) include macOS full list, or (d) translated to Hindi — and I'll do that.
